1. Update on call for art

1. Call for Art Update

- The call has been sent out to staff and legal feedback was given
- Many municipalities have reported that their murals haven't had issues with damage
- Release this Friday, April 19th with May 31st submission date
- Review by PACO on June 10th
- Interview and Award between June 10th and 28th. No obligation to award. (10K funds from City and Enjoy Oxford combined)
- Joe mentioned that there are private property owners in Oxford who are interested in financing public art on their own property. Jessica said that they are welcome to finance their own projects but would need approval from the Community Development Department and relevant boards and commissions.

- Submit by August 30th
- Review and selection during September PACO regular meeting
- Posted signs by early October in business windows.
- Jessica will enlist her intern, Emily Choker to help with the project
- We may pick a prominent location where the winning haiku will go

3. Approach to sub station mural for spring/summer 2025

- Jessica will take MOU to Council on Tuesday for the Duke substation project
- We discussed additional projects on that wall in spring or early summer 2025
- Discussed possibility of Matt Willy (The Good of The Hive) but we would need to engage him and that might push us out to 2026.

4. Make and Take collaborative art project last red brick Friday in the fall

- Amber will approach Lane Library and Miami Maker Space to help support the project.
